Lawful Collaboration and Intelligence Support for National Security and Counterterrorism

Dear Leadership of the Central Intelligence Agency,
The National Intelligence Agency,
The Defense Intelligence Agency, and
The Department of State Services,

I write with deep respect, responsibility, and an unwavering commitment to peace, stability, and lawful security cooperation.

As Chairman of Socio Technologies Limited and Founder of SocioAfrica and SocioAsia, my work has focused on digital inclusion, socio-economic empowerment, and strengthening cooperation between Africa and Asia. Through our technology-driven platforms and grassroots networks, we engage communities across diverse regions and maintain insight into social trends, digital communications patterns, and emerging risk indicators that may have national security implications.

Nigeria continues to face threats from extremist violence that undermine development, economic growth, interfaith harmony, and the safety of innocent citizens. Terrorism destabilizes communities and obstructs the future of young generations. Combating such threats requires coordinated, lawful, and intelligence-driven action supported by technology and community-based prevention.

In this regard, I respectfully offer our full cooperation — strictly within the bounds of Nigerian and international law — to support lawful counterterrorism efforts. We are prepared to assist in areas such as:

- Early identification of radicalization indicators within digital spaces
- Monitoring and reporting extremist propaganda trends where legally appropriate
  - Supporting counter-narrative and digital literacy initiatives
  - Strengthening youth-focused peacebuilding strategies
- Providing data-driven insights that enhance preventive security frameworks

For clarity and accountability, any credible intelligence or relevant security insights gathered through the lawful activities of Socio Technologies Limited, SocioAfrica, and SocioAsia will be communicated discreetly and responsibly through our official channel, ceo@socio.africa, to the designated and verified intelligence contact addresses of the Central Intelligence Agency, National Intelligence Agency, Defense Intelligence Agency, and Department of State Services.

All communications will strictly adhere to applicable legal frameworks, established security protocols, and any formal guidance issued by your respective offices to ensure confidentiality, integrity, and responsible handling of sensitive information. Our objective is to support lawful counterterrorism efforts while upholding ethical standards, human rights, and institutional accountability.

We believe sustainable security is achieved not only through intelligence coordination but also through innovation, education, economic empowerment, and trusted collaboration between public institutions and responsible technology organizations.

Please consider this letter a formal expression of our willingness to establish structured, lawful, and transparent collaboration channels in pursuit of a safer Nigeria, a more stable Africa, and a more secure global community.

With respect and commitment,
